Gave Up Hope

"I suffered five years, with awful pains, due to womanly troubles," writes Mrs. M. D. McPherson, from Chadbourn, N. C. "They grew worse, till I would often faint.
I could not walk at all, and I had an awful hurting in my side; also a headache and a backache.

I gave up and thought I would die, but my husband urged me to try Cardui, so, I began, and the first bottle helped me. By the time the third bottle was used, I could do all my work. All the people around here said I would die, but Cardui relieved me."

BOOKER WASHINGTON CLUBBED

Negro Educator Has Assault Arrested and Wound Dressed.

New York, March 19.—Upon complaint of Booker T. Washington, the well known negro educator, a man was locked up by the police to-night charged with assault. Washington received so severe a blow on his head from a club that he was at the Flower Hospital for over an hour late to-night, having the wound dressed.

The trouble occurred in front of a sixty-third street house, at which Washington called about 10 o'clock to see a friend, but no one answered his repeated calls on the door bell.
Thinking the man he wished to see might appear any moment, Washington walked up and down in the vicinity for more than half an hour, when the walk was interrupted by a man having the appearance of a janitor, who emerged with a club in his hand, according to the complaint, and struck Washington. Washington said he returned the blow with his fist and held the man until the police arrived. The janitor, according to Washington, "was though to be a white man, but I was a burner."

The alleged assailant gave his name as Albert Ulrich.
Ulrich told the police that his wife complained that the negro had been loitering around the hallway acting suspiciously. He walked up to the man and asked him what he wanted around there. No reason being given he promptly grabbed the negro.
In the mix-up which followed Ulrich wielded his club and received the return blows which the negro admitted he struck.

At the police station it was not until Washington had proved his identity that he was allowed to go.
Ulrich urged his arrest.

At the Flower Hospital it was said Washington had suffered two lacerations of the scalp, each about four inches long; that his right ear was split and he received several body bruises.

Washington came to New York last Saturday to meet the auditor of the Tuskegee Institute, D. M. Smith, whom he was trying to locate on West Sixty-third street to-night, when the attack occurred.

SUBDUED ELEPHANT WITH LIVE

MOUSE.

Keeper Thuman Has a Narrow Escape From Death in the Bronx Zoo.

N. Y. American.
Paul Thuman, head keeper of animals at the Bronx Zoo, had a narrow escape from death recently when he entered the pen of the elephant Gunda for the purpose of paring the corns of that intractable beast.

This is an operation all elephants have to undergo in the spring, but Gunda objected to it. Before Thu-man had made any appreciable headway the huge creature charged him into a corner from which there was no apparent possibility of escape.

Several attendants of the elephant house seized heavy forks to goad the beast, but Gunda was so fearful of the bar netting that not reach him. Just as Thuman was in the bushes they could it seemed as if would be caught up trunk or trampled under the elephant's feet, he drew something from his coat pocket and threw it at Gunda. The elephant gave a trumpet of terror and, swinging around, raced to the furthest corner, standing there trembling. Thuman slipped past the big fellow, got through the gate, slammed it and said:

"By hooky, that was a close call."

When asked what what it was he had thrown at the elephant with such success, he replied:

"Nothing but a live mouse. I always take one with me when I tackle the fellow, but this time the scheme came near not working. Mr.
Mouse had eaten a hole in the middle lining of my coat and I came near not getting my fingers on it in time. Some of these days that same trouble may cost me my life Gunda."

Afterward Thuman said, making his report to his superior: "I might as well confess that my sole claim to being able to do more with Gunda than any one else can do, is based on the proposition that I always carry a live mouse when I go into his enclosure."
